

What do participants say about “Love Your Neighbor”?

This seminar has been fantastic and I've learned so much about how to more effectively reach my Hindu friends and community members. This notebook is a great resource and I'm excited to share it with our church planting team members! Thank you so much for this wonderful training! -Erin, church planter, New York City

Our church appointed me to be Nepal Mission Field Director. I have just arrived and I am going to start ministry. I believe LYN was the best training tool I've got so far. Thank you so much. -Rev. Henry, South Asia

What touched me from this seminar is that the Hindus and the Muslims are not here in my country by accident but God in his plan has put them here. They need Jesus. Form relations, listen well, don't argue but walk in love with them and pray, prayer precedes all our actions. Thank you so much for this training! -Tiana Rafamantanantroa, Madagascar

'Love your Neighbor' training is one of the very effective trainings I have ever attended. I came to know about it while I was looking for some resources to reach out to Hindus. The promo video was so good that it motivated me to organize it for my church members here in Kolkata, so that they can effectively and sensitively reach out to their Hindu friends, relatives, and neighbors. I found that this training has the capacity to help all the Christians to really relate with the worldview or mindset of Hindus and help them understand the Gospel in most friendly, non-threatening, and sensitive ways. The workshops conducted within the seminar, based on teaching sessions, are very effective. I recommend this training to all the pastors and ministries in India to prepare them to 'Love their neighbor' in true sense. -Pastor Biman Majumdar, Kolkata

It was well researched and presented, with quality, relevant materials and lively interaction. The temple visit showed how we can relate to those of other faiths, by seeing them as real persons, rather than a caricature of what others have said about them. To bridge the huge divide between religions, a genuine under-standing and a calm, respectful dialogue is the key. This was the approach taken in the training provided by Naya Jeevan. -Pastor Sam Ninan, Lakeland, Florida

I have rarely been so touched, convicted, and equipped in 42 years of ministry as I have been this weekend in your classes.... I have floundered around for a year now trying to discover how to help [Hindu Bhutanese] refugees effectively.... I have gone from hopelessness... to a place of hope because of these classes. I know that this has been a turning point in my life. -Pastor Jimmy Gallagher, Dallas

Well organized, informative, challenging seminar. -Pastor Sabu Varghese, Philadelphia

This ministry of reaching South Asians doesn't have many such materials and we kind of struggle a lot. So Cathy, we cannot tell you how much we appreciate this. -Onyango, Nairobi

Cathy and Harsh spoke out of their extensive life experience. Their stories are so powerful! I also appreciated the whole curriculum. It was so helpful and informative. I knew very little about Hindu belief or how to approach Hindu friends with the Gospel and I learned a lot. Best of all, the class inspired us to be loving and respectful as we reach out and it taught us how to do that. -Lydia, Nairobi

This seminar has given me a great insight in reaching out to Neighbors. I am born in other faith but now Christian and I needed this. -Dhruti, Dallas

I was surprised to see that Cathy is an American, teaching how to evangelise among Hindus. But her understanding of Indian culture, their thinking process, and her strategies to approach are perfect. -Gangadhar, Tennessee

I was amazed at how wonderfully you've put all the essential aspects of evangelism in a nut shell. You seem to have an amazing grasp of our Indian culture, religions, attitudes and our mentality. After attending your seminar all my old school ideas of evangelism have flown out the window. With the valuable information from your seminar and a lot of prayer I am sure God will give us a plentiful harvest. -Kavitha, Los Angeles

This is a paradigm shift approach from what we have been using. I think not using right approach is in some sense depriving Hindus from the glorious Gospel. -Michael, Guwahati

[Love Your Neighbor] is there for "such a time as this" in America. I enjoyed it thoroughly and got a few new things. Above all it was very affirming to me in the way I am doing outreach to Hindus. -John Daniel, Atlanta

I really loved the way Cathy led our seminar. I was skeptical but I really learned a lot how to witness to Hindus. -Irene, Los Angeles

Thank you very much for your training! I've been waiting a long time for Hinduism training. This is the first conference I've been to or heard of. -Rob, Wisconsin

The seminar was very informative and productive and for me the day and time were spent well! Though we grew up among Hindus and have rubbed our shoulders with many of them, we lack the needed skills, wisdom and discernment to introduce them to Christ! -Fairly, Delaware

Wish I had known all this earlier. I feel more equipped now. -Lilian, Dallas

I now know what I don't know and can see where my blindspots are. -Julianna, Dallas

The most thorough training on relational evangelism I've received. -David, North Carolina

Coming from a traditional background this training helped me to connect with my Hindu neighbors with love and correct understanding from the Scriptures. -Joyjit, Kolkata

Coming from a Hindu background I was very insensitive before in dealing with my Hindu neighbors, but now I know how to win them with love. -Tapash, Kolkata
